10171120 745253 PRRAC  2007.04010 Poverty and Race Research A PRRAC_1
POVERTY AND RACE RESEARCH ACTION COUNCIL
FORM 990 - Attachment 1
FED ID#52-1705073
12-31-07

Part III

The primary exempt purpose of PRRAC is to link social science research to advocacy work in order to successfully address problems as the intersection of race and poverty.

A. OUTREACH

PRRAC conducts research benefiting thousands of people across the country, making available PRRAC resources and other services. PRRAC resources are provided at dozens of conferences related to issues of poverty and race relations each year. In addition, PRRAC conducts and plans regional meetings bringing together community groups and researchers to discuss these issues and develop working relationships among them. In the past, regional outreach meetings have taken place in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Atlanta, Newark, New Orleans, Washington, DC, Seattle/Portland, Philadelphia, and Chapel Hill.

B. PUBLICATIONS

"Poverty & Race" is the national newsletter of PRRAC and serves as a forum and a clearing house for the most contemporary information on issues of poverty and race relations. Each edition of the newsletter is mailed to some 5500 people across the country. PRRAC has also published numerous books and reports, including Unequal Health Outcomes in the United States (2008); Residential Segregation and Housing Discrimination in the United States (2008); Rebuilding a Healthy New Orleans : Final Conference Report of the New Orleans Health Disparities Initiative (2007); Building Opportunity: Civil Rights Best Practices in the Low Income Housing Tax Credit Program (2006); Keeping the Promise: Preserving and Enhancing Housing Mobility in the Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher Program: Final Conference Report of the Third National Conference on Housing Mobility (2006); Poverty & Race in America: The Emerging Agendas (2006)

C. RESEARCH/ COMMUNITY RESOURCE & RESEARCH

PRRAC supports numerous community-based organizations in their efforts to address poverty and race relations in the communities. Support included providing funds for specific research initiatives, technical assistance and building internal research capacity within existing community based organizations. Additionally, PRRAC funded a number of projects which looked at the impact of national programs assisting minorities and the poor in the areas of housing and education. PRRAC's Small Grants program has funded over 100 projects on race and poverty since its inception.
Facts and Circumstances Demonstrating Public Support for the Poverty and Race Research Action Council (EIN: 52-1705073) Under Internal Revenue Code Section 509 (a) (1)

This attachment supplements the 2007 Form 990 for the Poverty and Race Research Action Council ("PRRAC"). As shown on Schedule A, Part IV, PRRAC continues to qualify as a public charity under IRC Sections 509 (a)(1) and 170 (b) (1) (A) (vi). As the calculations on the support schedule show, approximately 27.7 percent of PRRAC's support is public support, and thus PRRAC no longer meets the 33 1/3 percent public support test described in Treasury Regulations Section 1.170A-9 (e) (2). This attachment describes the facts and circumstances necessary to demonstrate that PRRAC qualifies as a public charity under Section 1.170A-9 (e) (3).

BACKGROUND

PRRAC is a non-partisan, national, nonprofit organization convened in 1990 by major civil rights liberties, and anti-poverty groups. PRRAC's mission is to generate, gather, and disseminate research on the relationship between race and poverty, and to promote the development and implementation of policies and practices that alleviate conditions caused by the interaction of race and poverty. PRRAC also convenes advocates and researchers to encourage and further their collaboration on race and poverty issues, and supports social science research linked to local, state and national advocacy strategies.

Generous support from foundations has helped PRRAC weather the recent economic downturn and a leadership transition at the organization. However, these circumstances and the nature of PRRAC's current support have temporarily diminished PRRAC's level of public support.

APPLICATION OF THE FACT AND CIRCUMSTANCES TEST

As described below, PRRAC clearly qualifies as a public charity because it demonstrates the facts and circumstances used to evaluate public charities under Treasury Regulation Section 1.170A-9 (e) (3).

Percentage of Financial Support

Treasury Regulation Section 1.170A-9 (e) (3) (1) sets a minimum threshold of 10 percent public support to qualify as a public charity under the facts and circumstances test, and Section 1.170A-9(e) (3) (iii) states that "the higher the percentage of support above 10 percent requirement... the lesser will be the burden of establishing the publicly supported nature of the organization through other factors described in this subparagraph." In 2007 PRRAC received approximately 11 percent of its support from public sources, which is more by one percent from the minimum level of public support.
Attraction of Public Support

Treasury Regulation Section 1.170A-9 (e) (2) states that, in order to be considered "publicly supported," "An organization must be so organized and operated as to attract new and additional public or governmental support on a continuous basis." PRRAC has recently undertaken significant efforts to attract new and additional public support. Recognizing the value of PRRAC's work to the community, a small number of private foundations have provided PRRAC with support in recent months not only to help the organization continue its work but also to begin a new development effort to broaden PRRAC'S base of support. With these pieces in place, PRRAC expects that its new fundraising effort will bear fruit in 2007. Thus, it is highly probable that-PRRAC's public support will significantly increase with time.

Sources of Support

According to Treasury Regulation Section 1.170A-9(e) (3) (iii), determinations of whether or not an organization is "publicly supported," also take into account whether an organization receives support from "government units or directly or indirectly from a representative number of persons, rather than receiving almost all of its support from the members of a single family." PRRAC has received financial support from hundreds of individual donors, in addition to grants received from a number of different foundations. PRRAC's current fundraising plans are targeted at a broad base of donors.

Representative Governing Body

Treasury Regulation Section 1.170A-9 (e) (3) (v) states that "the fact that an organization has a governing body which represents the broad interests of the public, other than the personal or private interest of a limited number of donors will be taken into account in determining whether an organization is 'publicly supporter.' The regulations specify that an organization meets this requirement if the governing body is comprised of "persons having special knowledge or expertise in this particular field or discipline in which the organization is operating."

PRRAC's board of directors reflects the organization's public mission; it is comprised of academics, lawyers, and members of the non-profit community who specialize in issues related to race and poverty. This special expertise of PRRAC's board demonstrates the organization's commitment to serving the public interest through the organization's unique research and education work.
Availability of Public Services

PRRAC remains an organization committed to serving the public through its work. PRRAC was formed by a coalition of public charities and other tax-exempt organizations to conduct important research and public education in the areas of race and poverty. PRRAC works exclusively to serve the interests of people marginalized by the longstanding issues of race and class that continue to harm our society.

Treasury Regulation Section 1.170A-9(e)(3)(vi) (a) says that providing "educational services to the public through the distribution of educational materials, "constitutes evidence that an organization is "publicly supported." Furthermore, Regulation Section 1.170A-9(e)(3)(vi)(b) describes an "educational or research institution which regularly publishes scholarly studies that are widely used by colleges and universities or by members of the general public" as also giving evidence of "publicly support." PRRAC publishes a bi-monthly newsletter, Poverty and Race, which includes articles on PRRAC-sponsored research, advocacy work that research has assisted, and other relevant news. PRRAC's other publications address timely civil rights policy issues in the areas of housing policy, educational equity, and minority health disparities.

Because the vital educational material that PRRAC produces are the core of its work, PRRAC further demonstrates its public support.

Public Participation in Programs

Both the authors of PRRAC's publications and PRRAC's board members (as described above) are "members of the public having special knowledge or expertise." Their participation in the organization's work, according to Treasury Regulation Section 1.170A-9(e)(3)(vi)(c)(1), is additional evidence that PRRAC is "publicly supported."

CONCLUSION

PRRAC has substantially exceeded the threshold requirement of 10 percent public support and is making efforts that will increase the share of its support deriving from public sources. PRACC's board represents the public, and public participation is essential to PRRAC's program. PRRAC maintains and delivers a substantial program of research and analysis and actively promotes its materials and services to the education community and to the general public.

Accordingly, PRRAC satisfies the facts and circumstances test set forth in Treas. Reg. Section 1.170A-9(e)(3), and, therefore, it continues to qualify as a public charity under IRC Sections 509(a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A)(vi).
