Labeling Genetically Engineered Food: In April 2012, OSPIRG kicked off its bold campaign "Measure 92," which will ensure labeling of genetically engineered food. This campaign is a key priority for OSPIRG, as many Oregonians believe in the right to know what they are eating. The campaign will include educational outreach, community organizing, and litigation to protect the right to label. On October 1, 2012, Oregon became the second state in the nation to require mandatory labeling of genetically engineered food, following Vermont's similar legislation. The campaign has been supported by a wide range of organizations, including health advocacy groups, environmental organizations, and consumer groups. The campaign has faced opposition from the biotechnology industry, which has spent millions of dollars on legal challenges and lobbying efforts to prevent labeling.

Insurance Rate Hearings: OSPIRG has been a leader in fighting for fair and affordable health insurance rates. In 2012, OSPIRG was instrumental in advocating for and supporting legislation that required insurance companies to justify their rate hikes. The legislation, known as the "Rate File Bill," was signed into law in 2011. OSPIRG also worked with the Oregon Health Authority to develop a more transparent and informal process for setting rates. This process has resulted in lower rates for many consumers.

Safe & Accessible Public Transportation: OSPIRG has been a strong advocate for improving public transportation in Oregon. In 2012, OSPIRG worked with leaders in the legislature to pass the "Bridge to the Future Act," which provides funding for public transportation projects. The act is expected to provide billions of dollars in funding for transportation improvements over the next 20 years. OSPIRG also worked with local governments to develop innovative funding solutions for public transportation projects.

Healthy Aging: OSPIRG has been working to improve health care access and affordability for older adults. In 2012, OSPIRG was a key partner in the "Medicare 2020" campaign, which worked to improve Medicare and affordably expand health care coverage to all Oregonians. OSPIRG also worked with the Oregon Health Authority to develop a new approach to Medicaid eligibility and enrollment.

Clean Energy Infrastructure: OSPIRG has been a leader in advocating for clean energy infrastructure. In 2012, OSPIRG worked with the Oregon Public Utility Commission to develop a new framework for investing in renewable energy projects. The framework provides a predictable and reliable stream of revenue for renewable energy projects, which is critical to attracting investment.

Water Protection: OSPIRG has been a leader in protecting Oregon's waterways. In 2012, OSPIRG worked with the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality to develop a new framework for protecting Oregon's water quality. The framework includes new regulations for industrial wastewater discharges and new standards for water quality in rivers and streams.

Air Quality: OSPIRG has been a leader in advocating for clean air. In 2012, OSPIRG worked with the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality to develop a new framework for protecting Oregon's air quality. The framework includes new regulations for major sources of pollution and new standards for air quality in urban areas.

Healthcare Reform: OSPIRG has been a leader in advocating for comprehensive healthcare reform. In 2012, OSPIRG worked with the Oregon Health Authority to develop a new framework for implementing the Affordable Care Act. The framework includes new regulations for health insurance coverage and new standards for consumer protection.

Clean Energy Jobs: OSPIRG has been a leader in advocating for clean energy jobs. In 2012, OSPIRG worked with the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality to develop a new framework for creating clean energy jobs. The framework includes new regulations for investments in clean energy projects and new standards for job creation in clean energy industries.

Section A. Officers, Directors, Trustees, Key Employees, and Highest Compensated Employees

1a Complete this table for all persons required to be listed. Report compensation for the calendar year ending with or within the organization's tax year.

- List all of the organization's current officers, directors, trustees (whether individuals or organizations), regardless of amount of compensation. Enter -0- in columns (D), (E), and (F) if no compensation was paid.
- List all of the organization's current key employees, if any. See instructions for definition of "key employee."
- List the organization's five current highest compensated employees (other than an officer, director, trustee or key employee) who received reportable compensation (Box 5 of Form W-2 and/or Box 7 of Form 1099-MISC) of more than $100,000 from the organization and any related organizations.
- List all of the organization's former officers, key employees, or highest compensated employees who received more than $100,000 of reportable compensation from the organization and any related organizations.
- List all of the organization's former directors or trustees that received, in the capacity as a former director or trustee of the organization, more than $10,000 of reportable compensation from the organization and any related organizations.

List persons in the following order: individual trustees or directors, institutional trustees, officers, key employees, highest compensated employees, and former such persons.

Check this box if neither the organization nor any related organization compensated any current officer, director, or trustee.

Schedule D (Form 990) 2013
The government is considering a new law that would make it illegal to engage in certain activities involving fireworks. The proposal is being debated in Congress and is expected to be voted on in the coming weeks. Opponents argue that the law would infringe on individual rights and could lead to a rise in crime. Proponents say that it is necessary to protect public safety and prevent fires.

The House of Representatives has already passed the bill, and it is now pending in the Senate. The Senate is expected to vote on the bill in the next few weeks. If it passes, it is likely to be signed into law by the President.

The bill would make it illegal to possess, sell, or use any fireworks that are larger than 5 inches in diameter. Violators could face fines of up to $1,000 and/or imprisonment for up to one year.

The proposal is supported by a coalition of community groups and law enforcement agencies. They argue that fireworks are dangerous and contribute to a rise in crime in the area. Opponents say that the law is too broad and could infringe on the rights of individuals.

If the bill becomes law, it will likely face challenges in court. The constitutionality of the law will be a key issue.

The proposed law is just one of several measures that have been introduced in recent years to address the problem of fireworks. Others include increased patrols by law enforcement agencies and stricter enforcement of existing laws.

It remains to be seen whether the proposed law will be enacted. The Senate is likely to consider amendments to the bill, and it is possible that the final version of the legislation will be different from the one passed by the House.

Regardless of the outcome, the issue of fireworks will continue to be debated in the community. The proposal is expected to spark a lively discussion among residents, law enforcement officials, and elected officials.

The government is committed to ensuring the safety of its citizens and believes that the proposed law is necessary to protect public safety and reduce the risk of fires. It is urged that everyone in the community work together to ensure that the new law is enforced and that the use of fireworks is kept under control.
